The intersection of River Street and Galena Avenue thus far this year has earned the dubious distinction of being the traffic "danger spot" in Dixon, according to police department statistics.

This intersection has been the site of 11 auto mishaps, including four that involved more than $100 damage, during the first nine months of 1955.

It is also interesting to note that 76 auto crashes have occurred on Galena Avenue — nearly 35 per cent of the total number of accidents that have occurred thus far in the entire city.

These facts were discovered Friday during an inspection of the large street map of Dixon that is hanging on the south wall in the police station.

The purpose of the map is to aid the police department in pinpointing the intersections that will need closer surveillance in the future, according to Chief of Police Earl Kelchner.

The accidents are marked by pins with colored heads. A black-headed pin designates an accident involving damage over $100 while a pink-headed pin labels a minor mishap.

Hit-and-run collisions are marked with a white headed pin. An auto-pedestrian mishap is recorded by a white headed pin with the letter P printed on it.

An observer can readily see that a cluster of pins at or near a particular intersection automatically spells danger for the motorists and the pedestrians.

The 76 accidents on Galena Avenue include 32 that involved damage over $100, five hit-and-run and one auto-pedestrian mishap. Three crashes have actually occurred on the bridge itself.

Nearly two-thirds of these accidents on Galena Avenue have occurred between the bridge and Third Street — or right in the downtown business district.

In contrast, only 38 auto crashes have occurred so far this year on Peoria Avenue. These mishaps include 13 that involved over $100 damage, six hit-and-run and one auto-pedestrian. Three collisions have also occurred on the Peoria Avenue bridge.

In fact the top five most dangerous intersections in the city involve Galena Avenue. This includes the River Street crossing.

Three of these crossings have recorded eight accidents each. They are: Everett Street with five mishaps involving damage over $100 and one hit-and-run; First Street with three accidents over $100; and Commercial Alley with one major crash and two hit-and-run mishaps.

Two intersections have recorded seven accidents each. They are: Second Street and Galena Avenue with all seven crashes involving damage under $100; and River Street and Hemphill Avenue with three major mishaps.

There are two crossings with six accidents each. They are: Second Street and Galena Avenue with four major crashes and one auto-pedestrian mishap; and Third Street and Peoria Avenue with two accidents involving damage over $100.

Five accidents have occurred at each of two intersections. They are: Truman Court and Galena Avenue with three major crashes, and First Street and Peoria Avenue with two hit-and-run mishaps.

Five crossings have recorded four accidents each. They are: Peoria Avenue and E. Boyd Street; Third Street and College Avenue; River Street and Peoria Avenue; Third Street and Galena Avenue; and Second Street and Crawford Avenue.

There have been 304 traffic accidents reported in Dixon thus far in 1955 — 14 more than last year's total at this time.

TV BASEBALL CORRECTION

The baseball game of the day on television channels 4 and 13 will be the Cleveland Indians vs. the Boston Red Sox. This is a change in schedule. Originally planned was the New York Giants vs. Cincinnati Redlegs as listed in today's Television listings on Page 4 of the Dixon Evening Telegraph.

The Danger Zones

SGT. BURT LORENZEN of the Dixon police department is looking over a traffic accident map showing that the intersection of Galena Ave. and River St. is the "most dangerous." For other details of Dixon's traffic situation read today's "Take It From Here" column.

Cement Shortage Becomes Acute Local Area Supplied But Others Are Short

While reports of an acute cement shortage in some sections of Illinois continue to mount, a spokesman for Medusa Cement plant in Dixon today said that Dixon is continuing to receive quick delivery on cement orders.

Dixon wholesale cement buyers usually receive one-day delivery on orders, but in other portions of the state companies are buying imported cement at premium prices.

The Associated Press reports one major oil company received two railroad cars of imported German cement this month for construction in the Centraia oilfield.

The estimated cost of the imported cement is $1.85 a bag, about $1 more than the price of the domestic variety.

In Carbondale, there wasn't a bag of cement for sale today and one lumber supply company operator said his supplier was unable to say when a shipment might be expected.

Year-around construction projects and increased use of cement are considered to be the causes of the shortage.

Winter orders have been large enough to prevent cement producers from accumulating adequate reserves. The Medusa spokesman said the Dixon plant had one-third less in inventory than it should have had last spring to accommodate summer orders. He said small customers have been unable to get delivery as they did in the past.

Added Drain Increased highway construction has meant an added drain on cement reserves. The Chicago-area company which ordinarily supplies the bulk of the cement used in Chicago has provided the material needed for the Indiana toll highway, and as a result, the Chicago area is short.

Delay Legal Action to Allow Dockers to Return

NEW YORK (AP)—Legal punches aimed at striking longshoremen in the huge port of New York have been stayed over the weekend to give the dockers a chance to go back to the piers.

Meanwhile sympathy work stoppages threatened to embroil all East Coast ports were on the wane.

Called off Friday were walkouts in Boston and Providence, R. I. The stevedores in those cities were ordered back to work today.

Piers were back to normal Friday in Philadelphia and Baltimore after one day of idleness.

However, longshore meetings Friday at Norfolk, Va., tied up 11 ships there. And the walkout continues at Port Newark, Bayonne, Jersey City and Hoboken in New Jersey.

Some 70 cargo ships lay immobilized in New York Harbor, with perishable cargo piling up on the docks at the rate of 20 million dollars' worth a day. Shipping firms estimate they are losing a million dollars daily in business diverted to other ports.

Railroads are considering an embargo on all shipments to the port unless the backlog starts moving next week.

Practically all cement producers in the country have started or are planning expansion. Whether they will be able to catch up or whether the increase of production will be matched by increased demand cannot be answered at present.

The Medusa plant, which now produces 1½-million barrels of cement annually, is being expanded for production of 2½-million barrels. The first results of the expansion are expected to come near the end of 1956.

Adenauer Demands Soviets Return W. German Captives

Diplomatic Recognition Is Withheld

Three-Hour Session Ends Stormily; Reds Deny Holding POWs

MOSCOW (AP)—West Germany reiterated emphatically today in a stormy session with Soviet leaders that it would not establish diplomatic relations with Russia until the German prisoner of war question is settled.

Heinrich Von Brentano, West German foreign minister, stated the German position anew in a meeting at Splidronovka Palace that lasted more than three hours.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer emerged grim-faced from the working session, without comment.

Von Brentano spoke after Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin said the Soviet Union is not holding any German prisoners of war but has in its custody 9,626 "war criminals whose sentencing was a humanitarian act."

No Session Today

Members of the West German delegation said there would not be another session today.

Adenauer was scheduled to go sightseeing this afternoon. Diplomatic circles expected the West German chancellor to give a polite but firm no to Russian suggestions for an immediate exchange of ambassadors as a first step toward normalizing relations between the two countries.

Observers cited Adenauer's opening speech Friday to give weight to this view. Adenauer told the Kremlin chieftains he expected the Moscow talks to be just the first of many which would lead eventually to establishment of normal relations.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev arrived for today's talks three minutes ahead of Adenauer and his Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano.

Live Aboard Train

Adenauer and his delegation planned strategy for the meeting aboard a German train in the rail yards outside Leningrad Station. They are holding their confidential talks aboard the train because of their skepticism concerning security at their Sovetskaya Hotel headquarters.

While the conferees faced each other across the negotiating table in their second session, Moscow residents clustered at wallboards to watch the train.

Dewey said he had received money from the widow, Mrs. Grace Potter Miller, 77, but maintained that she gave it to him willingly.

Public Opinion Favors 1-Way Street Program

Dixon motorists thus far have gone on record as heavily favoring the proposed enactment of a trial one-way street program here according to a vote tabulation being kept in the police station.

As of 8 a.m. this morning, 40 motorists had voted yes and only three had voted against the plan.

The poll is being conducted at the request of Capt. Jack Van Meter, Dixon police officer who writes the weekly "Capt. Jack" column in The Evening Telegraph.

Van Meter proposed a limited one-way street program on a 90-day trial basis in his column this week and asked that interested motorists call or write the police station and give their reaction to the plan.

He proposed that First Street be for westbound traffic only between Galena Avenue and Madison Avenue and that Second Street be for eastbound traffic only between these two avenues.

Van Meter said he wants to hear from you, the people in and around Dixon. The police department telephone number is 4-8801.

'Pressure' Ike For 'The Word' GOP Chairman Anxious For His 1956 Plans

By JACK BELL

DENVER (AP)—Republican state chairmen built up pressure today on President Eisenhower for an early second-term announcement they said will help them get better GOP candidates in state and national races.

In advance of a breakfast conference with the President the GOP chairman who flew here Friday night from Washington were unanimous in expressing belief Eisenhower will run again.

The President has left this question up in the air with a declaration that the condition of his health and the state of the world and the nation will determine his decision at the proper time.

Message Ike

Before they left Washington, the chairmen sent Eisenhower a message saying they were "looking forward to supporting you again in 1956" and adding: "We like Ike better than ever."

National Chairman Leonard W. Hall told a news conference here Friday night he looks for the same ticket as in 1952, including Vice President Nixon. He said he thinks Eisenhower "will beat any Democratic nominee in 1956 by a greater margin than he did in 1952."

Hall said it appears to him that Gov. Averell Harriman of New York is "coming forth strongly as a presidential candidate" but he "doesn't care" whom the Democrats nominate.

Although he said he expected no announcement by the President of his intentions he regards the meeting with the state chairmen as worthwhile because "whenever you meet with the President, you come away with something of value."

Some GOP chairmen hadn't given up hope Eisenhower would indicate by his actions, if not by his words, that he is ready to head the 1956 ticket unless there are unforeseen developments.

Several state leaders said an early announcement would help them considerably in getting the election campaign under way. Several said they have found politically attractive prospects, whom they would like to have on their ticket for state and congressional offices.

After an hour-long conference with Eisenhower, Radford told newsmen that from a national security standpoint the United States

'Cold Wave' Will Arrive Here Tonight

Pre-Fall Chill Will Bring 40s, Says Weatherman

Dixon's brief but potent heat wave that sent the mercury to 95 degrees Friday was expected to end today as the season's first big cold front bore down on the Midwest from Canada.

While hot winds swept Dixon, light snow fell in Cut Bank, Mont., and the mercury slid to 33 as the big chill moved in.

The local reading at 10:30 a. m. was 79, and it was expected to edge above 80 before the cold front hits later in the day. Possible scattered showers were predicted.

Readings in the 40s were expected by Sunday morning.

Temperatures were above normal in the Midwest early today. Dixon had a low of 68, and a few points in Iowa and Wisconsin had lows in the 80s.

7 in Family Of 14 Hit By Polio

DURAND, Ill. (AP)—Seven of the 14 children of Keron Walsh, Durand farmer, have been stricken with polio.

The first polio victim in the family was Russell, 5, whose illness was diagnosed Sept. 2. She is in St. Anthony's Hospital at Rockford. The second was David, 17, who is in the Winnebago County Hospital at Rockford.

The other five children are being cared for at home. They are Francis, 2, Susan, 11, Joan and Julia, twins, 13, and Ann, 15.

Judge Fines Driver $100

County Judge Grover Gehant today fined John Schauer, 38, Shaw Station, $100 for driving while intoxicated.

Schauer was arrested about 10 p.m. Friday in Ashton by Special Deputy Sheriff Ronald Linscott, Ashton.

State's Atty. James Bales recommended the minimum fine in view of the fact that Schauer has seven children to support. It was his first offense.

Radford's Tongue Slips In Discussion of Defense

DENVER (AP)—Despite an apparent slip of the tongue on figures by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, his office says no major change in defense spending now is planned.

Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, himself said as much Friday after conferring with President Eisenhower. He created a bit of confusion, however, by mentioning a figure of $37,750,000 for the current basic military program. At another point he indicated to newsmen he expects the total to be between 34 and 35 billion.

To questions raised after Radford had departed, his office said the admiral meant what he said in stating no major change was in prospect.

After an hour-long conference with Eisenhower, Radford told newsmen that from a national security standpoint the United States

10 Will Be Released in 'A Few Days'

Reach Agreement On Others Held In China, U.S.

GENEVA (AP)—Communist China announced today that 10 Americans imprisoned or under house arrest in China would be released "within a few days."

The announcement was made by Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-Nan during a meeting with U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson.

At the same meeting this morning, the two ambassadors reached agreement on the repatriation of American civilians in China and Chinese citizens in the United States.

The text of the agreement made no reference to the number of persons involved, but provided for British and Indian mediation in facilitating departures.

The 10 Americans to be released at once were identified as: Lawrence R. Buol, Dilmus T. Knady, Rev. Levi Lovgren, Miss Dorothy Middleton, Miss Sara Perkins, Walter A. Rickett, Rev. Harold W. Rigney, Rev. Frederick D. Gordon, Rev. Joseph E. Hyde and Rev. James Joyce.

Today's agreement was understood to include an assurance by the Chinese communists that all American civilians held in China would be free to leave "expeditiously" — subject to Chinese Communist judicial processes.

This meant that those who were not under arrest or charged with an offense would be free to leave at once if they wished. The 25 American civilians in Chinese Communist prisons and three under "house arrest" would be released subject to court action such as parole or deportation.

Edison Allowed To Extend Free Bulb Plan Here

CHICAGO (AP)—The Commonwealth Edison Co., and its Public Service Co. division have been authorized to eliminate cheaper summertime electric rates for large customers.

Company spokesmen told the Illinois Commerce Commission that because of the vast use of air conditioning equipment, the gap between winter peak and summertime off-peak loads has been greatly reduced.

The off-peak rates had been in effect since the 20s, for about 1,200 such customers.

The ICC, in its order Friday, also approved the extension of the Edison company's free lamp bulb exchange service in the area around Dixon. Company officials said this would be the equivalent of a rate reduction of about $128,000 annually.

'Mystery' Man Identified as Son of German

BERLIN (AP)—A German living in Hamburg today identified a "mystery man" released by the Soviets as his son, missing for eight years.

U.S. officials said they had received positive proof that the man released as Frederick Charles Hopkins of New York, actually is Klaus Friedrich Glaubitz, 27.

The Soviets turned the man loose Monday with two American soldiers and insisted he was an American.

"Hopkins" contended, as soon as he was free that he was "Glaubitz" and that the Russians simply would not believe him. They maintained he was an American spy he said.

Protect Your House From Wind Damage

Make Minor Repairs in Advance

By MR. FIX

Hurricanes Connie and Diane, of recent infamy, directed their attention at coastal areas only. As hurricanes are wont to do. However, year after year windstorms of lesser velocity strike both inland and coastal regions with fine impartiality, piling up imposing lists of minor damages.

Damages that are "minor" to headline writers can be pretty major to individual homeowners. Were a full-blown storm to dislodge a few shingles on your roof, for instance, rain pouring into the attic would cause untold damage to walls, ceiling and furnishings. It wouldn't make headlines, but what a headache!

Yet it's the relatively minor losses like these that, added up, account for most of the dollar loss in windstorms. A few precautionary measures could prevent, or at least reduce, a substantial part of this property loss.

Fasten Shingles
For one thing, be sure that roof shingles are securely fastened down. If yours is an asphalt shingle roof (85 per cent of the roofs in this country are asphalt shingle) then stick down the tab ends of each shingle unit with asphalt tab cement. You can buy it at building materials stores.

Put a small amount of cement under each tab and press down. Don't apply it on a hot day, as the cement may get too gooey to handle. If you have one of the new white or pastel roofs be careful not to apply too much cement and not to put it too near the bottom edge of the tabs. Otherwise, it may run down and stain the shingles.

Roof leaks, too, should be checked before the next blustery, rainy season. Leaks that appear to be small now can really cause trouble in severe storms. Also, have torn or loose flashing repaired, clean out gutters and downspouts, and be sure they are firmly affixed to the house.

Fix Chimney
If the mortar in your chimney is bad, or if it needs new flashing, have it repaired by a mason. Chimney damage is high on the list of windstorm losses. Insurance people point out that house maintenance of this type is particularly important when it comes to saving money on windstorm damage, as a great many insurance policies have a $50 deductible clause (this means that the homeowner pays for the first $50 damage; deductible clauses enable insurance companies to offer much more reasonable rates).

Save your house from major and minor windstorm damage by taking a few simple precautions now, before the next big blow.

than otherwise would be possible, and at the same time give protection against a major loss. If you don't have windstorm coverage, or if you are in doubt about the extent of your coverage, have your insurance representative explain it.

Other Precautions
Other windstorm precautions to take around the house are these routine ones:

1. Cut off and trim dead limbs on trees near the house. Remove any large branches that overhang any part of the house, porch or garage.

2. Be sure roof-mounted TV antennae are securely fastened, with guy wires if necessary.

3. Put hooks on screens where needed, and put new hinges or fasteners on shutters where needed.

4. Provide some kind of emergency light, such as a kerosene lamp and extra can of fuel; an extra battery for the portable radio, and roll of roofing paper to nail down in event that shingles become dislodged despite your precautions.

Fan Conditioning

If you can't afford or don't want air conditioning in your home, try one of the window-installation fans for hot-weather relief. These pull in fresh air and keep it circulating through the rooms. They're ideal (and inexpensive) for cooling a small apartment.

Take Your Choice

There is a difference between the two types of dairy-made chocolate-milk beverages offered for sale in this country. One is chocolate-flavored whole milk. The other is chocolate-flavored skimmed or partially skimmed milk.

Homeowner's Tools Also Powerized

The Russians who visited Iowa farms recently and were impressed by American tractors should have taken a second look at the average homeowner's use of power mowers, power sweepers, power tillers, power snowplows and other automation in our back yards.

It's common today to see the owner of a good sized lawn riding around on a sulky-type mower like a farmer making hay in the sunshine. Sure, he does it partly for fun, but you can bet your hat he's keeping down his manpower cost.

For smaller lawns, the regular power mower has become accepted as a heart saver. In fact, the main trouble with the ordinary power mower is that it doesn't rake leaves, spade the garden, edge the flower beds and shovel the snow in the wintertime. So other power gadgets have been invented to do these jobs. Only problem is they add up to quite a bill because of all the gasoline motors they carry.

Now one manufacturer has devised a lightweight portable motor unit to fit on separate tools to do all of these jobs for you. You just put this power handle on whatever tool you want to use and it's motorized. The unit weighs 39 pounds, contains a 2½-horsepower four-cycle gasoline engine and can be switched from a lawn mower to a lawn sweeper, or any other garden machine, in 10 to 20 seconds.

This power handle and its attachments are scheduled to be on the market early this fall and the manufacturer has about 40 other ideas in mind for it. Among them is a motorized wheelbarrow, a mobile sprayer and a stand-by generator to keep your food freezer, heating plant and some lights going during power line failures.

Cheese and Eggs

Swiss cheese melted into scrambled eggs is good for a late breakfast. Just before the eggs are done, stir strips of Swiss cheese with the eggs until melted. Serve on toasted, buttered English muffins.

Refinishing Your Old Furniture? Follow These Three Easy Steps To Make Wood Look Its Best

If daily dusting makes only the scratches on the furniture appear new, it's time to consider refinishing the wood.

Anybody with time, patience and a little ingenuity can make old furniture look new, or make antiques gleam with their rich softness.

There are three major steps to refinishing furniture: removal of old finish; preparation of wood; application of new finish.

Removing old paint and varnish is standardized procedure with any kind of wood. Only at the second stage—preparing the wood for new finish—does the procedure depend on the kind of wood.

Close-grained wood (maple, beech, birch, white pine and basswood) requires less care in preparation than open-grained woods (oak, mahogany, walnut, ash and chestnut).

Once the wood is taken down to its natural state and prepared, it can be painted, stained or finished naturally. The final polishing operation can give it a satin surface, a wax finish or a high gloss.

Here's how it's done.

REMOVAL OF OLD FINISH

1. Brush a standard paint remover over furniture's entire surface.

2. Remove softened paint with

REFINISHER'S DICTIONARY

Here are the articles needed to re-do that scratched-up table. They may be purchased under these correct names at nearest hardware store.

Filler: Paste which is used to fill pores of open-grained woods. Before use, it is thinned with turpentine.

Close-grained woods: Maple, birch, beech, white pine, basswood.

Open-grained woods: Walnut, mahogany, oak, ash, chestnut.

Rubbing compound: Paste that is used for final polishing of furniture where high gloss is desired.

Sandpaper: Paper with sand glued fast on one side, used for smoothing and polishing of wood.

Steel wool: Fine steel shavings used for polishing. Very fine steel wool, No. 000, is used for creation of "satin surface."

Wet and dry paper: A very fine grain polishing paper for rubbing in mixture of benzine and oil.

burlap cloth or steel wool.

3. Wash article with denatured alcohol.

4. Remove major cuts and scratches with a large grain sandpaper. A finer sandpaper is used for final polishing.

PREPARATION

For all wood:

1. Sandpaper until smooth.
2. Round the corners lightly with a sand block.
3. Glue splinters down. When glue has dried, excess drops are sanded down.
4. Clean surface with turpentine.
5. For open grain woods only: Apply filler (mixed to consistency of heavy cream).
6. Let filler dry for 10 minutes. Then wipe across the grain with old burlap. Remove excess dried filler.
7. Rub lightly with the grain.

For all woods:

Paint, stain, or apply a "natural finish"—depending upon desired effect. Natural finish is desirable on mahogany, walnut, cherry pine and maple because of their distinctive patterns and colors.

NEW FINISH

1. "Satin surface" is the most popular and most manageable finish. An even mixture of benzine and crude oil is first applied. "Wet and dry" paper is then used to rub entire surface. Fine steel wool, No. 000, rubbed over surface, gives furniture its satiny feel.

2. A high gloss finish, seldom desirable for interior furniture, uses basically the same formula as the "satin surface" finish. No steel wool is used. Instead, "rubbing compound" is worked into the surface. A clean pad is then wiped vigorously over entire article.

3. Boiled linseed oil may be used for a "wax finish." These articles—complete with directions for application—may be purchased at nearest hardware store.

Peron's Politics

Interpreting Argentine politics would seem to be no job for a novice. But President Juan Peron's latest moves have put the burden upon us once more.

After the revolt of this June 16, the experts said Peron probably was weakened for the long pull, but would be stronger in the immediate future. It hasn't worked out quite that way.

In the intervening weeks, his power relative to that of the army leaders who pulled his chestnuts out of the fire has appeared insufficient. The Catholics, against whom he was beginning to move forcefully at the time of the revolt, have steadily harassed him with hostile demonstrations.

Now, however, he has been emboldened to try to fasten again a tight grip on his country. His performance was staged with the customary Peron flair for the dramatic.

He announced his willingness to resign his office in the manner of the humble public servant who does not wish to stay if he is not wanted. But the offer was a complete phony.

It was the signal for his favorite shills, the workers of the Peronist General Confederation of Labor, to assemble in a cheering mass beneath his Casa Rosada window in Buenos Aires and reject the offer. Having thus heard the call to duty from the "shirless ones," why, of course, Peron could not possibly yield his office.

The outpouring of the Peron workers had a broader meaning. They are the symbol and a good share of the substance of his power. They are usually available for duty as a cheering section, a marauding mob, or a comfortable block of votes.

In the days since June 16 they have been lying low, suggesting that Peron dared not inflame army leaders by employing them. Their reappearance indicates fresh confidence on Peron's part.

This is not all, of course. Peron has delivered a violent speech against his enemies. And he has won from the Argentine Chamber of Deputies the power to clamp martial law on Buenos Aires.

This authority gives him the right to suspend civil liberties for so long as he should deem necessary. For instance, a man captured in a criminal act may be shot without trial.

There can be no doubt that Peron is in a stronger position than he was a short time ago. But the history of the post-revolt period can hardly be reassuring to him. Basically, he looks shakier than the experts believed he would be at this stage.

Their long-range forecast of his downfall in the not-too-distant future may well be fulfilled. For the day seems to be drawing closer when the army, the real key to his continuance in power, may realize that petty dictator Peron is not good for Argentina or anybody else.

Ruth Lynn September Bride

John A. Gasmunds
Now Residing on
Farm Near Polo

MR. AND MRS. JOHN A. GASMUND

POLO — St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Polo, was the scene of an early autumn wedding Sunday, Sept. 4, at two o'clock when Ruth E. Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keefer, Rock Falls, became the bride of John A. Gasmund, Polo, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Christ Gasmund, Forrester. Baskets of gladioli were placed on either side of the altar. The double ring service was read by Dr. K. E. Irvin. Elta Mae Asche and Mrs. Ilene Moring, Forrester, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love". The accompanist was Mrs. Janet Mueller, Forrester.

The bride, given in marriage by her son John A. Lynn, Chicago, wore a blue, ballerina tulle and nylon dress. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of white roses and pink carnations.

Attend Bride
Miss Anne Cerne, Chicago, as maid of honor, wore coral tulle and nylon. Her flowers were coral carnations.

Junior bridesmaids, Jane and JoAnn Gasmund, daughters of the bridegroom, wore floor length pastel gowns.

Mary Elizabeth McDonald, Chicago, as flower girl wore a pink nylon frock. Allen Asche, Freeport, was ring bearer.

Junior Wrens, Polo, served as best man. Ushers were Ronnie Zimdahl, Forrester; Willis Asche, Freeport; Merle Keefer, Rock Falls; and Arnold Myers, Polo.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Keefer chose a navy satin and lace gown. Her corsage was white carnations.

Church Reception
A reception was held in the church dining room, following the ceremony. Baskets of flowers, from the gardens of Mrs. Lewis Asche, Forrester, and Mrs. Elmer Gasmund, Dixon, were used in the decorations. The bride's table, covered in white, was centered with a three tiered cake, decorated with pink rosebuds and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Ellis Myers, Polo, cut the cake; Mrs. Clara Keefer, Rock Falls, poured coffee and Mrs. Dorothy Asche, Leaf River, served punch. Mrs. Lois Keefer and Mrs. Patricia Asche assisted in serving.

A prettily decorated cake was also on the table, honoring JoAnn Gasmund who was observing her eighth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gasmund are now at home on a farm northeast of Polo.

Attend Wedding
Out of town guests were present from Chicago, Dixon, Freeport, Forrester, Rock Falls, Leaf River and German Valley.

Guests included four generations of Mrs. Gasmund's parents, on both the mother and father's side: Mrs. Harry Keefer, Rock Falls; Mrs. Gasmund, her daughter, Mrs. Jerome McDonald, Chicago and her granddaughter Mary Elizabeth McDonald. On the father's side, Harry Keefer, his son Paul; his grandson Merle and his great-grandson Tim, all of Rock Falls.

Sew Synthetics

Sewing synthetic fabrics calls for special attention, says Dr. Jane Werden, textiles and clothing specialist at the University of Illinois. In selecting your pattern, remember that synthetics work best if they are cut so that the seams are on the bias. This keeps the seams from puckering too much.

Also, gathers seem to work better than darts in synthetic fabrics. A cap or kimono sleeve may be better than a set-in-sleeve.

Use very sharp scissors for cutting the material. You'll want to have sharp pins and needles too. It's a good idea to use new pins and needles each time you sew on synthetics.

If the synthetic fabric is fine, use a shorter stitch, a looser tension and a No. 9 or 11 needle. You might try winding the bobbin by hand so that it will be wound loosely.

Seams are a problem in synthetic fabrics because they unravel easily. To keep this from happening, you can stitch close to the edge and then pink it, or turn the raw edge under and edge-stitch it.

Is there an electric blender in your kitchen? Use it for fruit and milk drinks for small fry. If you make the drink an hour or so before serving and chill it, you may want to reblend it for 10 seconds or so before serving. Milk, ripe bananas and sugar make a delicious drink.

When you prepare a gelatin dessert that calls for egg whites, use the yolks in a soft custard sauce. Serve the sauce with the gelatin dessert or with a fresh fruit compote.

Miss Geister Is Annual Meeting Speaker for Third District Nurses

Miss Janet M. Geister, R. N., Chicago, a prominent figure in nursing affairs, will be the featured speaker for the annual meeting of the private duty section, Third District, Illinois State Nurses' association. The event, to which all nurses, student nurses and lay people are invited, will take place Thursday evening, Sept. 15, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of St. Anthony's nurses' home, Rockford. Mrs. Lucy Funk, Dixon, is chairman of the third district.

"Growing with the Profession," will be the subject of Miss Geister who is at present a member of the board of directors of the American Nurses' Association and a consultant to the editors of "R.N.", a widely read magazine for nurses. The speaker will be met in Rockford by her long time friend, Mrs. Edward Hoyle, Harmon, also an R. N., and will return home with her for a few days visit. Mrs. Hoyle has been making the arrangements for Thursday's program.

Miss Geister began her public health experience in infant, welfare and visiting nurse work in Chicago. During World War I she was engaged by the Federal Children's Bureau to organize a rural health conference and to assist in the establishment of health work.

Later, as assistant executive secretary of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, she continued this type of activity. In addition, she participated in some of the early noted health surveys sponsored by the Rockefeller and similar foundations.

Well Known Speaker
Next week's speaker served for six years as executive of the American Nurses' Association and for eight years as editor of "The Trained Nurse and Hospital Review."

view." She now travels widely to speak on nursing and health subjects. Her "Candid Comment" column appears monthly in the "R. N." magazine.

Hints for Today

Serve your young people orange juice when they want a mid-morning or mid-afternoon cool drink. Recent studies show that both boys and girls of 13 and 14 years were deficient Vitamin C—the vitamin that citrus fruits furnish in abundance.

When your baby is ready for his first taste of solid food, take it easy! Offer no more than a tiny sample of the food on the end of a small spoon. Gradually offer more until Baby is really used to the new flavor and texture.

Marinate snap beans and thinly sliced radishes in a tangy French dressing. Serve as a relish with hamburgers or cold meat or fish.

Riot Follows Football Game

Nine Persons Injured In Dayton, O., Fracas

DAYTON, Ohio (P)—A post-game football celebration erupted into a wild-swinging disturbance involving several hundred persons here Friday night, and police were forced to employ tear gas grenades and bombs to quell the outbreak. There was no shooting.

Nine persons were injured, including three Dayton policemen and two sheriff's deputies. Police made four arrests.

Area Jammed

The violence occurred in the city's West End, a predominantly Negro section. At the outset of what police called a "riot" the area was jammed with persons leaving a game between Dunbar and Stivers High Schools.

Police said the disturbance was touched off when a boy of high school age, loitering outside a YMCA building, was told to "move on." The boy brushed aside the officer, police said and entered the building. Accounts as to what came next differed, but soon most of the persons in the area were throwing punches at random.

No white persons were involved, police said.

All available police were called to the scene, and Montgomery County deputies and state highway patrolmen stood by if needed.

At one point, local police ran out of tear gas, and a supply was rushed from nearby Wright-Patterson AFB and from the community.

Firefighters Control Big Timber Blazes

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Firefighters appeared to be getting the upper hand today on a dangerous brush fire near Santa Barbara as other points in this fire-ravaged state also turned more optimistic.

The Santa Barbara fire had threatened 20 cattle ranches in the area, but the firemen—including 500 Marines—concentrated along a seven-mile line and aided by fog and rising humidity, appeared to be winning.

"The fire is not running now and there does not seem to be any immediate danger of a break-through," Bruce Barron of the U. S. Forest Service said.

The area where firemen concentrated was between the Alisal Guest Ranch and Nojiqui Fall State Park.

A total of 2,000 men were fighting the blaze which has swept over 70,000 acres of brush and timber. Nolan O'Neal, fire control officer, estimated damage to the watershed at more than five million dollars.

At Sequoia National Forest in the Sierra Nevada east of Fresno, Supervisor John Beebe said "things look good" although one blaze that jumped fire lines Thursday is still out of control. The fire is in converse basin, west of the huge Boole tree, north of the main fire and south of King's Canyon.

Both the Gen. Grant tree and the Boole tree are apparently out of danger. The Grant tree is believed to be the world's oldest living thing.

Armed Guards Patrol Prison In Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb. (P)—Shotgun-armed guards watched restless inmates of the Nebraska State Reformatory pace their cells today while in a hospital an inmate was near death from a wound received in gunfire during the breaking of a riot Friday.

Fire had blazed through two prison shops before the force of reformatory guards—backed by guards from the State Penitentiary which itself has seen two full-scale uprisings this year—moved in to force iron bar and steel armed rioters back into their cells.

The wounded inmate is Luis Morales, 35, San Antonio, Tex., who was shot in the back. He was serving an auto theft sentence, and an added term for walking off from a work detail.

Worley Decides To Await Action By Grand Jurors

Richard Worley, 26-year-old Dixon on insurance agent charged with assault with intent to commit murder, today told Circuit Judge Robert Bracken that he did not wish to waive prosecution by grand jury indictment and was returned to his jail cell under $5,000 bond.

State's Atty. James Bales indicated that he will seek an indictment against Worley when the grand jury convenes Sept. 19.

Worley had earlier indicated that he would waive grand jury action, as permitted under the new law, and seek an immediate trial.

He is charged with terrorizing his ex-wife and four children with a gun on the morning of July 25, ties of Miamisburg and West Carrollton.

Game an Uproar

Damage resulted in broken store windows and smashed windows in several police cruisers.

The game won by Dunbar, 6-0, was of an upset nature, and police said the fan's tempers were apparently on edge before the disturbance started.

Cargill Group Holds Meeting In Nachusa House

Two dozen Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin territory managers of the Cargill Hybrid Corn Co. met Thursday in the Nachusa House for a sales clinic and to hear reports on the current sales program.

H. K. Hayes, department manager from Minneapolis, Minn., told the territory men. "The picture for our 1955-56 program is the brightest in our history."

Sales Manager C. M. Grunstein, Minneapolis, Minn., added, "Sales for our 1955-56 program are well ahead of last year."

Antonio Marino, executive vice-president of Cargill from Buenos Aires, Argentina, was guest speaker. He began his talk on hybrid corn development, production and sales in Argentina.

Marino is visiting the United States to obtain information and learn new techniques in production and sales of hybrid corn.

Others on the program were: John Perring, district manager; W. A. Krause, brewer advertising agency; Del Cook, technical services representative; Reuben Anderson, sales assistant; and A. H. Gordon, advertising manager, all of Minneapolis, Minn.

Surviving are four sons, Burdette, Dixon; Adlai, Ashton; Sanford, Creston; and Ralph, Rochelle, a daughter, Mrs. LaVonne Smith, DeKalb; nine grandchildren; a brother, K. O. Sanderson, Rochelle, and two sisters, Mrs. Eva Hill, Shabbona, and Mrs. Tryman Byro, Malta.

JOSEPH E. MAYER
MENDOTA—(Special)—Joseph E. Mayer, 58, West Brooklyn, died at 9:45 a.m. Friday in Amboy City hospital where he had been a patient since Sunday.

Mr. Mayer was born May 30, 1897, in West Brooklyn, the son of Matthew and Elizabeth Dunleavy Mayer. He was married to Stella Gehant, Jan. 17, 1922.

Survivors include his widow; three daughters, Margaret and Frances, at home, and Mrs. Calvin Anderson, Peoria; two grandchildren; two brothers, Raymond and Frank, West Brooklyn; and two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Montavon, West Brooklyn, and Mrs. Frank McCaffrey, Amboy.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Mr. Mayer was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church, West Brooklyn, and the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday in St. Mary's church with the Rev. James Lafferty, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the Swartz funeral home, Mendota.

Injured Mount Morris Youths 'Good' Report

OREGON—(Special)—Three Mt. Morris youths, injured early Friday in an auto accident that killed Teddy Gloffely, 18, Mt. Morris, were reported in "good" condition today by Warrmots Clinic.

William Troxell, 22, who had head and chest injuries, was transferred to KSB Hospital, Dixon, for further treatment.

At C. Robert Trout, 21, with a fractured left leg, cuts and bruises, was transferred to a Chicago hospital for further treatment.

Carl Dietzel, 21, minor cuts and bruises, "might" be released from the clinic today.

They were injured when the car in which they were riding left Rt. 2 north of Oregon, rolled over, crashed a fence and came to rest 433 feet from the point it left the highway.

No time had been set today for an inquest into Gloffely's death.

Assistant Prosecutor Named In Wolf-Whistle Murder Case

SUMNER, Miss. (P)—The state has beefed up the prosecution for the trial of two men charged with murdering a Chicago Negro boy who wolf-whistled at a white woman.

A former FBI agent, Robert B. Smith III of Ripley, Miss., was appointed a special assistant attorney general and assigned to the Emmett Till case Friday night. Trial on the murder indictments opens Sept. 19.

Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman, Mississippi's governor-elect, said he appointed Smith at the request of the regular prosecutor, Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham.

The action came a few hours after the early trial date was fixed. The defendants are half-brothers: Roy Bryant, 24, of Money, and J. D. Milam, 38, of Glendora. They are charged with kidnapping and murder. Maximum penalty: Death.

Chatham said he would wire the slain boy's mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley of Chicago, an official invitation to attend the trial, but was plainly irritated at her insistence on a bodyguard.

In Chicago, Mrs. Bradley said she will come here for the trial if she gets adequate protection. She asked for a bodyguard of two Chicago detectives.

Mrs. Bradley's son, Emmett Till 14, was snatched from the home of his uncle near Money Aug. 28 by two white men on a midnight raid.

His nude, battered body, a bullet hole in the head, was found in a river three days later. It rose to the surface despite a heavy bit of cotton gin machinery bound to it with barbed wire.

Till had wolf-whistled at pretty Mrs. Bryant, 21, at the Bryant store three days before he was snatched. He went there to buy two cents worth of bubble gum.

13 Airmen Feared Lost In Pacific

TOKYO (P)—The U. S. Air Force said tonight there were apparently no survivors of the 13 crewmen missing in their B29 Superfort since Thursday night.

The Air Force said an unopened parachute found 80 miles south of Miyako Island belonged to the missing plane. Miyako is some 200 miles southwest of Okinawa.

Unopened rafts, oxygen bottles and flight box lunches were found Friday in the same area.

Air Force, Navy and civilian search units are fanned out over a 20,000-square-mile area. The plane was last heard from at 8 p.m. Thursday while on a routine run.

Legion, Auxiliary Will Install New Officers Sunday

A joint installation of Dixon American Legion and Dixon American Legion Auxiliary officers will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in the new Legion Home, 306 W. First St., Dixon.

This will be the first installation of officers to be held in the Legion's new headquarters.

The new local officers will be installed by the 13th District officers. The latter includes Commander James Thorp, Chadwick; Senior Vice-Commander Walter Kyer, Dixon; Junior Vice-Commander Carl G. Jones, Stockton; Adjutant Eugene Wolfe, Rock Falls; and Sergeant-at-Arms Arthur Palmek, Freeport.

Dancing will be held from 9 p.m. until midnight. A buffet luncheon will also be held.

Report Theft of Wheels, Tires From Car Lot

John Rich, part-owner of the Rich used car lot on N. Galena Ave., Dixon, today reported the theft of two rear wheels and tires from a 1954 Buick parked in the lot.

Rich said the thief or thieves also damaged the rear bumper and fender while removing the wheels and he set the loss and damage at $125.

He said the theft occurred sometime late Friday or early today. County authorities investigated.

'Miss America' To Be Chosen Late Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (P)—Selection of the 1956 Miss America beauty and personal appearances will be made late tonight by a team of 11 judges.

Six preliminary winners held a commanding lead today as the beauty contest moved into the final stage.

The judges' decision, expected about midnight EDT, will end a tense, exciting week for the 49 contestants from 45 states, Chicago, District of Columbia, Hawaii and Canada.

The new Miss America, to replace 1955 winner, Miss Lee Ann Meriwether of San Francisco, will be selected on the basis of beauty, talent and personality.

Three nights of preliminary judging have brought valuable point honors to these winners:

Swim suit division—Barbara Mamo Vieira, a tall tanned Honolulu hula dancer entered as Miss Hawaii; Ann Campbell, a 21-year-old Oklahoma City student; and a petite 18-year-old blue-eyed blonde, Clara Faye Arnold of Raleigh, N. C.

Talent division—Soprano Patricia Byrd Huddleston, hazel-eyed Southern belle from Clanton, Ala.; honey blonde Sandra Wirth of Miami, Fla., a baton-twirler; and drama student Virginia E. Maffucci of Watertown, Mass.

The naming of Miss America 1956 at this seashore resort's huge convention hall will be televised from 10:30 p.m. EDT until midnight.

covered with newspapers giving full text of Adenauer's opening statement. It was the first time West German citizens had ever seen West Germany's view on the return of German war prisoners still held by the Soviets and on reunification of Germany.

Press "All-Out"

The Soviet press gave the talks tremendous publicity. The first and second pages of Pravda and Izvestia were almost entirely devoted to the conference. Both papers printed eight-column pictures of the ceremony.

The West looked to the detailed discussions for a line on Soviet strategy for next month's conference of Big Four foreign ministers in Geneva.

Adenauer in his opening statement set out West Germany's position on establishment of the moral relations the Soviet Union has urged.

He said a normal relationship between the two countries could not be achieved without first resolving the causes of abnormal relationship.

It would be "unthinkable," he said, to decree a normal relationship unless the German war prisoners still held by Russia are freed.

Opens Auto Door In Traffic Lane

Anthony Kemper, 71, 906 S. Galena Ave., Dixon, escaped injury about 7:15 p.m. Friday when he opened the door of his parked car directly in front of a car being driven by Mrs. Juliana Anderson, 47, Ohio.

Kemper's auto was considerably damaged in the mishap. The Anderson vehicle received only minor damage.

The accident occurred on Second Street near the Galena Avenue intersection. Officer William Boehm arrested Mrs. Anderson for operating a motor vehicle without a valid driver's license.

Rubbish Fire

The Dixon Community Fire Department was called to the Elizabeth Johnson residence, 1309 Palmyra Ave., at 2:30 p.m. Friday to extinguish a rubbish fire that had gotten out of control. No damage was reported.

Corn Crop Prediction Declines

WASHINGTON (P)—The Agriculture Department Friday forecast this year's corn crop at 3,113,467,000 bushels and the wheat crop at 916,776,000 bushels as of Sept. 1.

The corn estimate is 364,244,000 bushels less than last month's forecast of 3,477,711,000 bushels. The wheat figure is 5,818,000 bushels more than 910,956,000 indicated a month ago.

The corn crop compares with 2,964,639,000 produced last year, 3,080,115,000 for the 10-year 1944-53 average and the department's production goal of about three billion bushels.

The wheat estimate compares with 969,781,000 harvested last year, 1,154,073,000 for the 10-year average and with the government's goal of about 900,000,000 bushels under a rigid production and marketing control program.

Winter and Spring

The wheat crop included 689,403,000 bushels of winter wheat and 227,373,000 bushels of all spring wheat. Unchanged from a month ago, the winter wheat estimate compares with 790,737,000 last year and 867,390,000 for the 10-year average.

The indicated production of other crops this month compared with last month, last year and the 10-year average, respectively, included:

Oats 1,636,030,000 bushels this month; 1,625,264,000 last month; 1,499,579,000 last year and 1,323,321,000 for the 10-year average.

Rye 28,448,000; 28,448,000; 23,688,000 and 21,097,000.

Soybeans for beans 387,527,000 bushels; 420,043,000; 342,795,000 and 238,488,000.

Tobacco 2,258,867,000 pounds; 2,240,466,000; 2,236,408,000 and 2,088,738,000.

Compare States

The indicated yield per acre and production, respectively, of important crops by major—producing states included:

Corn—Ohio, 62 bushels per acre and production 234,360,000 bushels; Indiana 57 and 275,595,000; Illinois 54 and 489,986,000; Kentucky 41 and 82,574,000.

Oats—Ohio, 52 bushels per acre and production 70,980,000 bushels; Indiana 53 and 73,193,000; Illinois 57 and 182,115,000.

Soybeans for beans, Ohio 25 bushels per acre and production 31,125,000 bushels; Indiana 24.5 and 51,795,000; Illinois 24 and 106,720,000.

Tobacco—Ohio, 1,600 pounds per acre and production 24 million pounds; Indiana 1,600 and 12,160,000; Kentucky 1,477 and 376,547,000.

Kentucky Fire Loss $2 Million

LANCASTER, Ky. (P)—Unofficial estimates placed the damage at more than two million dollars today in a fire that swept six business buildings and killed 1,000 head of livestock.

The animals were awaiting sale at the Garrard County stockyards when the flames broke out Friday after a service station's gasoline tank exploded.

Three men suffered minor burns while fighting the spectacular flames in 90-degree heat. A brisk wind hampered the work of firemen.

The $200,000 stockyards was engulfed by flames after the explosion and the fire quickly spread to a warehouse across the block.

Caught in the spreading inferno were the Elliott Motor Co., the Sanders Implement Co. and two warehouses belonging to the firm. The Travelers Inn Restaurant, Frank Marksbury's Farm Business House, and O'Neal Casey's grocery.

Bonding Firm Seeks Return Of $3,000 Here

The Carolina Casualty Insurance Co., a North Carolina firm which lost a $3,000 bond when Mrs. Margaret O'Conner, alias Mabel Paus, Chicago, failed to appear in court here July 27, Friday afternoon started action to recover its money.

Atty. T. Renfro Eaton, acting on behalf of the company, filed a motion to vacate Circuit Judge Robert Bracken's forfeiture action on the grounds that the court was without jurisdiction in the matter.

The motion contends that Sheriff John Stouffer improperly served the necessary legal papers on the company.

Judge Bracken ordered Mrs. O'Conner's bond forfeited when she failed to appear on time for her trial.

Mrs. O'Conner, now thought to be the same woman listed as "most wanted" by the Chicago police department, was indicted for being an accessory after the fact in a Dixon jewelry store robbery last February.

The charge was later dismissed in favor of a larceny warrant from Madison, Wis. Mrs. O'Conner was again freed on bond, however, while an appeal was being made on Judge Bracken's extradition ruling.

District Cancer Society Meeting Set for Sterling

To back the battle waged by researchers in laboratories all over the nation, representatives of the American Cancer Society's First District will meet Thursday, Sept. 15, in Messiah Lutheran Church, Sterling, to map strategy for an intensified cancer control program on their home fronts.

Miss Dorothy Arrington, Dixon, is Lee County chairman.

More than 150 Cancer Society volunteer workers from Lee, Boone, Bureau, Carroll, DeKalb, Jo Davies, Kane-Kendall, LaSalle, Ogle, McHenry, Stephenson, Whiteside and Winnebago counties are expected to attend. Among those traveling to Sterling for the meeting will be Mesdames L. E. Sharpe, L. C. Glessner, Wayne Wolfe, John O. Selgestad, Victor Eichler and Glenn Felton, also Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lesage, Dixon, and Mrs. J. H. Hughes, Amboy.

Challand To Preside

Harold Challand, Sterling, senior director of the First District and superintendent of Sterling public schools, will preside.

Opening with registration and a coffee hour at 9:30 a.m. (CDT), the morning part of the meet will feature a round table discussion, "Our Doctors Look at Cancer." Participating in the discussion will be: Dr. John A. Rogers, executive director of the Society's Illinois Division; Dr. Saul Park, Sterling; Dr. Peter Gray, Sterling and Dr. K. J. McFeiridge, Dixon. Concluding the morning session will be a meeting of delegate members from the chapters comprising the First District. Delegates will nominate two district directors to be supported for election to the board of directors of the Society's Illinois Division. Election of members is slated for the Division's annual meeting Nov. 10 and 11 in Chicago.

Principal Address

The principal address of the day will be given at the luncheon by Oliver Field, director of the American Medical Association's bureau of investigation. Field will speak on the fascinating and timely subject of cancer quacks in his speech "Cancer Quackery—Today's Black Art." Anyone in this area wishing luncheon reservations is asked to contact Mrs. Victor Eichler, 3-8511 immediately.

Following the luncheon, a series of group discussions on the various phases of the work of the Illinois Division will be held by staff members of the Society. Public education, publicity, service, campaign and administration will be subjects of the programs.

PUZZLES THINGS TO DO STORIES

Magic Tricks -- Change a $1 Bill Into a $5 Bill

GET A LARGE envelope—the long kind—and cut off a very thin strip around all the edges except the flap, where the glue is. The envelope will now be in two pieces.

Take the piece which has the flap attached and slip it into another long envelope of the same size, so that the flap of the first envelope lies right in front of the flap of the other. It should look like one envelope.

Now tell your Dad that you want to show Mother how you can change a $1 bill into a $5 bill. Ask him to lend you $5. Put the $5 bill in the space between the two flaps. Drop it all the way to the bottom.

Now seal the two flaps together by moistening the glue on the uncut envelope.

Now you and Dad call Mother and ask her to lend you a $1 bill. Tell her you can change it into a $5 bill.

Put the $1 bill into that part of the envelope that has not yet been sealed and then seal it. Tell Mother that if she will pass her hand over that part of the envelope where the address would be placed if you were going to mail it, the $1 bill will be changed into a $5 bill.

After Mother has passed her hand over the envelope, take a knife and cut the envelope open by making an "x" with the knife where you would write the address. Do this in such a way that you will not cut the $5 bill inside.

Now break open the cut and pull out the $5 bill.

Mother will be surprised, but don't tell her how the trick is done. She may want you to do it for her every day, but, of course, you can't do that unless Dad will furnish you with a $5 bill every day!

Be sure you don't throw the envelope away after you have taken the $5 bill out, because the $1 bill is still inside. After Mother has gone, you can then break the envelope open and take out the $1 bill.

If Mother took the $5 bill, Dad will probably want you to give him the $1 bill.

Sports -- This Play Was Too Tough to Be Stopped

ONE OF FOOTBALL'S most amazing games was played on New Year's Day of 1941, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

The score was tied in the final quarter, 13-13. Two touchdowns had been scored by Boston College, sparked by the brilliant forward passing of little Charlie O'Rourke, 158-pound quarterback. But the University of Tennessee had also scored twice.

And the Boston College coaches and players knew their danger too well. They knew that Tennessee had one play that was too good to be stopped!

FRANK LEAHY was Boston College's head coach, building up the reputation that would carry him to even greater fame at Notre Dame. In preparing for this Sugar Bowl game, Coach Leahy had instructed his second team to use Tennessee plays against the first team. Tennessee, like his own team, had a dangerous passing attack.

In practice Leahy made a discovery. His team couldn't seem to stop one of the Tennessee plays, despite the fact that the opposition was only the second team. It frightened him.

NOW BOSTON COLLEGE had moved the ball to the 24-yard line. O'Rourke had been tossing pass after pass. What would the little quarterback do now, run or pass?

O'Rourke took the ball and faded to his right, arm cocked to pass. Tennessee's defense hastily dropped back. Suddenly O'Rourke tucked the ball under his arm and, behind rapidly forming interference, scooted to his left. He went all the way.

What about that Tennessee play that couldn't be stopped? Well, the play was so good that Coach Leahy decided that Tennessee might not be able to stop it, either.

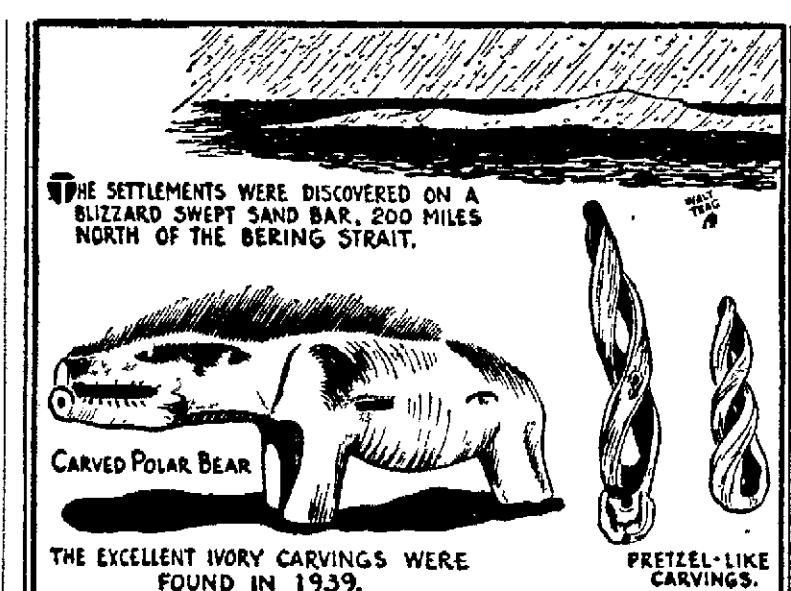

So, O'Rourke scored the touchdown that defeated Tennessee, 19-13, by using a Tennessee play—the fake pass!

Long Ago -- Desolate Land Held Vanished Race

DURING THE recent war one of the largest settlements ever found in the North American Arctic was excavated. It's on a sand bar 20 miles from the mainland of Alaska and 200 miles north of Bering Strait.

Today there is not a single tree on the area and practically no vegetation of any kind. There are constant gales at 30 degrees below zero. Where 250 Eskimos can barely find food today, an estimated 4000 persons once lived! Excavation began in 1939 by American and Danish museums. The team, comprising about 800 houses, turned out to be nearly a mile long and a quarter of a mile wide.

This civilization has been called "Iputak" after the Eskimo name for the place. Though they may have been Eskimo in origin, there were many marked differences in their living habits. The Iputak used a central open fireplace for heating while most modern Eskimos use stone lamps. No remains of sleds have been found, little pottery and little of the marine hunting gear—such as the harpoon—generally associated with present-day Eskimos. The most prized possessions of these early Alaskans were buried with them: flint tools, needles and other objects. Many of these were so different from Eskimo things that the Eskimos inhabiting the region didn't know what they were.

Ivory animal carvings were uncovered. There were also many spiral-shaped carvings which the natives likened to a pretzel-type biscuit which Eskimos eat.

The Eskimos came from Asia and have been here at least 2000 years. Where did the Iputaks come from? Presumably these mysterious people migrated to Alaska from farther south, perhaps across the Bering Sea or Arctic Ocean or, more unlikely, from somewhere on our own Pacific coast.

How It Happened -- Why He's Called Honest Abe

A COMMON NICKNAME for Abraham Lincoln was "Honest Abe." He gained that name in the little town of New Salem, Ill., a town which had only about a hundred people when Lincoln lived there. He was a clerk in a store there.

One day he was greatly perplexed to learn that a customer had paid him six cents too much. It had been done in making change, and Abe had not discovered it until an hour after the customer had left. He could not close the store, but after dark he walked three miles and returned the money.

On another occasion he found that he had weighed some tea incorrectly. A woman had bought a half pound at closing time. When he looked at the scales the next morning he saw that he had given her a package of tea that was four ounces too light. It was daytime, with other customers to look after, but as soon as possible he took the tea to her, making another long walk.

These examples of his honesty were not as strongly testing as was yet another instance. Abe and a man named Berry bought a store in New Salem, giving their notes promising to pay for the goods in the store. Business was not good, so after a year or two they sold out to two brothers, who in turn gave them their notes, instead of money.

The brothers disappeared soon afterward without having paid anything on their notes. Then, to make matters worse, Berry died. Abe was left with the whole debt, and with nothing to show for it.

He went to his creditors and told them that he would save all the money he could beyond the bare expenses of living, and would pay everything.

It took him almost 18 years to do it, and during that time he paid about $300 in interest. There was so much to pay that he jokingly called it "The National Debt." But he paid it all.

He could have declared bankruptcy, but he refused to do so. It was an honest debt, he said, and an honest man would pay it.

In the store was a small post office. Postal officials did not come around very often to examine accounts and collect money, but one finally came.

As Lincoln was still in town, he presented a bill for $17. Abe took him to a small trunk and opened its lid. He took out a cloth bag, opened it, and counted out the exact change.

"I've had it here waiting," he told the official. "I never use anybody's money but my own."

Is it any wonder that the people called him "Honest Abe?"

Things to Make -- Glamorize Your Jewelry, Girls

INSTEAD OF THROWING away old, tarnished pieces of metal costume jewelry, try transforming them into glamor get-ups with the help of ordinary enamel or oil-base paint. You'll be surprised at how pretty they will look. What's more, you'll need very small amounts of color.

Start by preparing the paint bath. This requires any deep tin can, such as one that used to contain family-size amounts of fruit juice. Fill it with water. Then pour a little paint on the surface. It will float.

Next, use your piece of jewelry—which might be a simple earring—to a piece of string, and drop the ornament below the film of paint. Bring it up through the color—and enough will cling to cover the piece completely. The string's other end—such as a towel rack or the cover curtain ring, until it is quite dry.

Other items of course such as necklaces and earrings, can be painted in this manner. And if you don't want the catches screws and such to be covered by the paint, all you do is shield them with adhesive tape first.

For unusual effects, you might try cutting small diamonds, triangles or squares of sate tape too, and attach them where desired before dipping the jewelry. Don't remove the masks, of course, until the paint is quite dry. It's also a good idea to cover rhinestones and the like with adhesive tape as well.

Don't be hesitant about applying paint to favorite pieces because you're afraid that "mistakes" will be difficult to remove. For there's an easy way to do this. Place such jewelry in an air-tight tin can, such as one that contained vacuum-packed coffee. Add a few tablespoons of lacquer thinner. Replace the lid. Seal it with Scotch tape. Twenty-four hours later you'll find that the paint will be soft enough to wipe off.

This is a good trick to remember if you're completely satisfied with your new painted accessories. For you can change the shade at will to match different outfits.

Obadiah Splits a Log

"OBADIAH, are you going to split that wood today, or not?"

Mistress Prescott spoke a trifle sharply, and her son at once rose to his feet. "Yes, Mother, I'll get at it right away!"

The Prescott cabin had been built on the borders of the Old Bay Colony; and in those early days of the 18th century life was rough and dangerous.

Sounds from the inner room caused Obadiah to pause. "How you feeling today, White Doe?" he called out cheerfully.

"Me better! Paleface medicine do lot good!" was the reply.

White Doe was an Indian maid of the Wampanoag tribe, whom Obadiah and his father had rescued from fierce Mohegans who had captured her up-river. Hungry and hurt, she could only tell them she'd been taken from some distant camp of the Wampanoags.

"Fine!" said Obadiah, and hurried out to the shed after an ax. He found his father at work there.

"Better take your rifle, too!" advised his parent. "One never knows when the Mohegans may come prowling around!"

Bearing his double burden, Obadiah started off, whistling, and having plunged into the forest, came upon a pine tree trunk he'd felled the day before. He started to strip it of its branches, after leaning his rifle against a huge oak.

Soon it was necessary to drive a wedge between the two sections of the partly severed log, and having fashioned one he drove it in very firmly. That done, he raised his ax in air, but paused as a sinister shadow fell across the little clearing.

Glancing up, he beheld a fierce-looking savage, who now stepped between him and his rifle. Silently the Indian possessed himself of the precious weapon, then turned to the lad saying: "Paleface have plenty firesticks! I take um. Lose mine in big river. Ugh!"

Obadiah understood that the red man had lost his own gun and was taking his to replace it. Well, he did not let him get away with it. Making a menacing motion with his ax he said defiantly "Put that down! It's mine—and you'd better leave it where you found it!"

It was a bold speech, and the savage, scowling dully, made as though to aim the rifle at the lad. "When me shoot, me kill!"

DARING PLAN

Obadiah had to think fast. He was certain the Indian was not a Mohegan—probably from some tribe up-river. As he stood facing the stranger a plan popped into his mind whereby he might save both his life and his rifle. Worth trying, anyhow!

"Huh. You got me in a tight spot. And maybe you do need that gun more than I do!" he said, evenly.

This change of front astonished the Indian.

"As long as you've got the gun, maybe you won't mind giving me a lift here," went on Obadiah. "Help split pine trunk, huh?"

He pointed at the partially severed pine.

"How paleface boy want help?"

"I'll show you!" Having taken a firm grip on one section of the trunk, by gestures he invited the Indian to grasp the other half. Between them they could easily rend it in twain.

The Indian understood. "Paleface lazy dog!" he grunted, but having put the rifle down beyond the lad's reach, he did as Obadiah had asked.

But no sooner had his fingers taken a firm grip, than Obadiah withdrew his own and knocked out the wedge. At once the two sections closed in a vice-like clutch. The Indian was caught.

Quickly the lad took the Indian's tomahawk, and the rifle too. Then, putting two fingers to his lips, he blew an ear-piercing signal which soon brought his father bursting through the bush, musket in hand. Two to one now, they released the unlucky red man.

While they debated what to do with him, White Doe came into view. She had left the cabin in search of berries.

At sight of the tall savage she ran toward him, arms outstretched, and he clasped the little one to his breast. Then, addressing Obadiah and his father: "Me Long Fox, Wampanoag chief! This my daughter—Mohegans steal—many moons since."

White Doe poured out her tale of rescue and how the whites had restored her to health. Then Long Fox made the peace sign and shook hands with her rescuers.

"Long Fox no forget! Heap big friend! Wampanoag keep the peace!"

And they did, for many a year!

'Abracadabra!'

"You do not wish to be here? You would like to be in China? All right, in China you shall be Ab-ra-ca-da-bra! Abracadabra! ABRACADABRA! There you are." Have you ever heard that charm invoked?

Long years ago, many of our English forefathers wore as a pendant what they thought was one of the most potent charms to ward off serious illness. The word "Abracadabra" was printed on a small piece of paper or parchment which was then folded and fastened to a linen thread that was long enough to go around the neck, allowing the queer "magic" pendant to rest on the chest.

This charm was believed to have unfailing powers. It was made from the initials of the Hebrew words for Father, Son, and Holy Spirit—namely, Ab, Ben, and Rauch—A-Cadesch. There was just one certain way that these letters could be printed. Then, and then only, would the charm work.

Here is the pattern. Perhaps you might like to try it.

Bobby Pin Box Easy

A DISCARDED lipstick case can be transformed into a bobby pin box. And this clever gadget is easy to make.

First of all, get hold of a discarded lipstick case. Dig out any remaining lipstick from the bottom of the case, and be sure that the inside of the case is spotlessly clean.

Paint the upper part of the case with a bright-colored enamel. Let the paint dry thoroughly.

From raw alphabet soup letters, pick letters to spell the words, BOBBY PINS. Using household cement, stick these letters to the side of the case.

The finished box will be an attractive, useful gadget to hold bobby pins in your purse.

Discover Ancient Ship

Aqua-lung equipped explorers, diving 140 feet beneath the surface of the Mediterranean Sea, have uncovered an ancient Greek ship that founded about 100 B.C. The ship, carrying pottery and wine, had been fairly well preserved by the sea.

BALE RUTH

Babe Ruth, who was best known for his home-run hitting and the records that he set in that department, could also get his share of hits other than the long four-baggers. In 1923, he ended the season with a .393 batting average, which is the all-time high for any Yankee player.

In 1924, he won the league batting crown with a .378 average.

AIRLINES NEED
HOSTESSES - STATION AGENTS
ticket agents, reservation agents, communication agents, traffic and sales representatives, etc.
The major commercial airlines urgently need young men and women, ages 17 to 39, with a high school education and a pleasing personality for permanent positions in the passenger department. Airline employees enjoy security, higher pay, free travel passage, social and recreational activities, retirement and insurance advantages and EXCEP-TIONAL ADVANCEMENT OP-PORTUNITIES. A short low cost training period that will not interfere with your present job can qualify acceptable applicants for an exciting, glamorous career.

The Morning After Andrade Beats Zulueta in 10

NEW YORK (AP)—Cesco Andrade realized a long time goal Friday night when he drubbed Orlando Zulueta in Madison Square Garden. Now the flashy, 25-year-old Compton, Calif., lightweight wants a shot at the winner of the Wallace Smith-Jimmy Carter title fight.

Before Friday night's 10-round, the twice-beaten Andrade was ranked ninth and the more experienced Zulueta, fifth. The votes, all for Andrade, were: Referee Al Berl and Judge Arrie Schwartz, 6-3-1 each, and Judge Frank Forbes, 7-3. The AP card had Andrade in front, 8-2.

Truman Wishes He Had Fired MacArthur Sooner

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Truman says he wishes he had fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur two years sooner.

That, he said, is the only "repentance" he has had for removing MacArthur as supreme commander in Korea April 11, 1951.

The 71-year-old Truman, who recently canceled two California speeches, reportedly because of his health, made the statement in a question-and-answer period following an address before the Executives Club of Chicago Friday.

Lack of Support
The former president fired MacArthur on grounds he was "unable to give wholehearted support" to the policies of the U. N. and the Truman administration in the conduct of the Korean War.

A questioner asked why U. N. forces in Korea did not drive to the Yalu River "as MacArthur said they could" instead of halting at the 38th Parallel.

"MacArthur never was ordered to stop at the 38th Parallel," Truman reported. "There were a million and a half Chinese between him and the Yalu River and he couldn't get through them."

A MacArthur aide in New York said there would be no immediate comment from the general on Truman's remarks.

Plug: Adlai
Still plugging Adlai E. Stevenson for president, Truman told a news conference he would not accept the 1956 Democratic nomination under any circumstances.

In Washington, the Democratic National Committee made public a letter from Dr. Wallace Graham, Truman's physician since 1945.

Graham said he "cannot allow" Truman to make two California speeches because the former president's "four of lectures to Detroit, Toledo and Chicago are arranged."

on such dates that it would be impossible for him to recuperate fully for a trip to California Sept. 12.

There had been reports Truman canceled appearances at California fund raising dinners because he was "sore" at Edwin W. Pauley, a prominent California Democrat.

Adlai Leaves
For Speech
In Jamaica

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Sun silent on his 1956 political plans, Adlai E. Stevenson planned to leave today for Kingston, Jamaica.

The Democratic presidential nominee of 1952 spent the night at a hotel and paused during his dinner to grant a five-minute interview to a reporter.

Stevenson, accompanied by his son, Adlai Jr., and daughter-in-law and Richard Reynolds, aluminum manufacturer, will make a speech at Kingston Sept. 15 during Jamaica's 300th anniversary celebration.

Then he plans to go to Reynolds' home at Montego Bay and will return to Chicago in October.

He said a slogan of the 1956 campaign will be the Eisenhower administration is a "government of the rich, by the rich and for the rich."

Issues of the campaign, he said, will be Eisenhower's "erratic conduct" of foreign policy and what he termed "moral duplicity" of the Republican administration. He declined to elaborate.

That's the End!
HAILEY, Idaho (AP)—Minnie End paid a $25 fine for fishing without a license Friday.

As she left the court she told Probate Judge John Wright: "This is the end of Minnie End fishing without a license."

Kidnap Bill Discovered in East St. Louis

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Discovery here Friday of a $20 bill from the missing part of the $600,000 Greenleaf ransom money brought to 24 the number of such bills to be found in recent weeks.

Sixteen of those bills have been found in the Federal Reserve Bank at Chicago while others have turned up as far apart as Miami, Fla., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said Friday night the latest bill was turned in by the Southern Illinois National Bank of East St. Louis. An East St. Louis resident, who was not identified, had identified the bill from serial numbers published in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and gave the bill to bank officials.

John A. Harszy, president of the bank, and FBI officials gave no details of the most recent finding.

A total of $303,720 in $20 and $10 bills was missing when suitcases held by kidnap-killer Carl Austin Hall were opened here following his arrest. Hall later was executed for the kidnap-slaying of 6-year-old Bobby Greenleaf of Kansas City.

Louis Shoulters and Elmer Dolan, the St. Louis officers who arrested Hall, are serving prison sentences for living to a federal grand jury about their handling of the suitcases.

Los Angeles
Heat Wanes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The longest and hottest heat wave Los Angeles ever experienced has come to an end at least temporarily. The weather man said today's high would be 83 degrees at the Civic Center.

The heat wave saw temperatures of 100 degrees or more in the city for eight straight days. The maximum was 110. The toll was 103 lives and caused millions of dollars loss in livestock and crops.

Store, House
Burn; Boy
Admits Arson

GALLESBURG, Ill. (AP)—A 10-year-old boy from St. Augustine, Ill., was held for juvenile authorities after a fire marshal said the boy admitted setting fire to a store and burning down a house.

Walter E. Parlier, state deputy fire marshal, Friday said the boy told him he set fire to the only store in St. Augustine because he disliked the proprietor and burned down the house because he was angry with the family living there.

The fire marshal quoted the boy as admitting that he ignited a pile of newspapers in Henry Baker's grocery on Aug. 14. The fire destroyed the store's interior.

Parlier said Baker told of catching the boy trying to take money from the store cash register three days before the fire.

Parlier said the boy told him he set fire to the home of Charles Oyler Aug. 19. He said the boy told him he was angry with the Oylers for leaving him at home after promising to take him to a community show in a nearby town.

No charges have been entered against the boy immediately. Parlier did not identify him.

Woosh!

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP)—Could it be that the "long arm of the law" can influence the wind? County Attorney Matt Walsh was holding some important papers and gestulating with that hand as he walked with a friend down a courthouse second floor hall.

Came a gust of wind. Swish—out a window went one of the papers. Walsh hustled down the stairs and into the first floor office. There he found his paper—settled on the desk of chief deputy sheriff Wayne Moser.

A. O. Smith Firm Will Expand Plant

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A $4,400,000 expansion program has been announced by the A. O. Smith Corp. for its Kankakee, Ill., plant.

The company said Friday that the program was already underway and would be completed by late next year. Plans call for increasing the present plant area by 50 per cent.

The Kankakee plant manufactures water heaters, home heating and air conditioning equipment and steel silos.

Dallas Police Nab Merchants In Raid

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dallas police clerks were still busy this morning after vice squad officers pulled a surprise raid and booked more than 40 local businessmen for gaming.

The men were members and guests of a civic group holding its annual stag party. They were placed under $10 bonds for gambling after police allegedly broke up a dice game at a popular restaurant.

Four detectives attended the stag party incognito, sat through a strip-tease act, then called headquarters for a raiding party when a dice game started.

Police Chief Carl Hansson said the men "were respectable citizens, but they were endangering the restaurant owner's liquor license by gaming in his establishment and had immoral women running around in the nude."

The Montgolfier brothers, of France, generally are credited with the invention of the balloon in 1782.

Advertising helped make the difference

FOLKS USED TO BUY refrigeration in fifty pound pieces. Frozen foods were unheard of... ice cubes an impossibility... and that drip pan under the ice box always seemed to be overflowing. Today, a silent, white-enameled ice man stands in millions of kitchens.

But to mass produce millions of refrigerators, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of people at one time.

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new refrigerators... and helps sell them. The more it sells, the more must be made — keeping the production lines and the job going. The result: newer, better appliances at prices more people can afford to pay. Advertising helped make the difference — in refrigerators, and in our American way of life.
